

Big Reactions

One moment. A few words. Enough for today.

START HERE

Choose one recent moment. One box is enough. "Not sure" is okay.

Download, type in the boxes, then save a copy. Or print and write.

This is not a scorecard for you or your child.

Use this afterwards. Examples below are fictional; write only what you noticed.

1 BEFORE | What was happening?

What was happening? Example: "I said it was time to leave the park."

2 DURING | What did your child say or do?

What did you see or hear? Example: "Cried, said no, sat on the path."

3 AFTER | What happened next?

What happened next? Example: "I waited nearby. We walked out later."

OPTIONAL | Anything else worth noting?

Tick what you noticed. These are clues, not confirmed causes.

☐ Noise☐ Pace☐ Tiredness☐ Discomfort☐ Not sure

You can stop here. Keep your notes private; no need to send them to APC.

Come back when you are ready

A second moment can give you something to compare.

NO NEED TO FINISH THIS TODAY

Choose a similar situation. It can be one that went more smoothly, or another difficult moment.

1 BEFORE | A second situation

Start with: "We were ..." or "I said ..." A few words are enough.

2 DURING | What did your child say or do?

Instead of "upset", try: "cried", "covered ears", or the words you heard.

3 AFTER | Support and what happened next

Start with: "I ... Then my child ..." It is okay not to remember.

ONE THING TO NOTICE AGAIN

What was similar? What was different?

Example: "Leaving was easier when we had more time."

"I am not sure what mattered" is a useful answer too.

Two moments cannot confirm why a reaction happened. You do not need to record every reaction or change several things at once.

What next?

Keep one useful observation. Choose what feels manageable.

THIS PAGE IS OPTIONAL

You can keep your notes and return to them later. There is no deadline and nothing to submit to APC.

1 One thing I noticed

Example: "Both times, we were stopping something my child enjoyed."

2 One small support I could try

Example: "Allow more time." Unsure? Ask someone who supports your family.

3 What happened when I tried it?

Notice less rushing, communication or recovery. "No change" is okay.

Want help choosing a practical next step?

If the same difficult moment keeps returning, APC can help you explore one concern or work with you through the Home Support Programme.

Explore Parent Home Support

autismpathwaysconsulting.com/parents

Scan for support